

To: Purchia, Liz[Purchia.Liz@epa.gov]; Smith, Paula[Smith.Paula@epa.gov]
From: Zito, Kelly
Sent: Tue 8/11/2015 12:22:31 AM
Subject: Fwd: CBS This Morning Inquiry

I know you guys are swamped... Any chance you can send her the update soon? Will that answer her questions?

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: "Zuleta, Myra L" <ZuletaM@cbsnews.com>
Date: August 10, 2015 at 5:04:08 PM PDT
To: "Gray, David" <gray.david@epa.gov>, "Smith, Paula" <Smith.Paula@epa.gov>, "Zito, Kelly" <ZITO.KELLY@EPA.GOV>
Subject: RE: CBS This Morning Inquiry

Hi there,

Checking to see if someone will be able to get back to me tonight. This is for a piece we're working on for tomorrow morning.

Thank You

From: Gray, David [mailto:gray.david@epa.gov]
Sent: Monday, August 10, 2015 6:05 PM
To: Zuleta, Myra L; Smith, Paula; Zito, Kelly
Subject: RE: CBS This Morning Inquiry

Hi Myra,

Paula will get back with you on your questions since she is in Colorado.

David

From: Zuleta, Myra L [<mailto:ZuletaM@cbsnews.com>]

Sent: Monday, August 10, 2015 4:50 PM

To: Smith, Paula; Gray, David; Zito, Kelly

Subject: CBS This Morning Inquiry

Hi there,

I wanted to follow up with some questions I had after today's conference call....

At this point how much waste water is coming out of the Gold King Mine? I know yesterday it was around 500 gallons/minute. Is that still the same?

Where is the plume now? When do you anticipate it will reach Lake Powell?

Any more information on potential risk to human health?

Many thanks in advance,

Myra Zuleta

Producer

CBS This Morning

Office: 212-975-3115

Cell: 646-621-5622

ZuletaM@cbsnews.com